

HOSPITAL SERVICES MANAGEMENT

COURSE DESCRIPTION

A DIPLOMA COURSE in Hospital Services Management will enable the student to have specialized knowledge of the management of hospitals and health services in a highly dynamic and changing healthcare industry.

CAREER OPTIONS FOR GRADUATES: Graduates of the Hospital Services Management diploma course may pursue positions in clinics, health insurance companies, hospitals, private physician practices, rehabilitation centers, and other healthcare organizations. Current students of the Institute of Health Management may also elect to take this course as an elective in their respective degree program. After completion of this course, you will also have the potential to oversee a number of assignments that include financial matters, regulatory compliance, human resources functions, facilities and equipment, technology, public relations and policymaking, etc.

Overview of Topics: This diploma course will incorporate elements of strategic management applicable to hospital operations. The course will also delve into specific health service organization issues, especially those pertaining to doctors and nurses; group dynamics, quality control in the hospital, and day to day management issues. Additionally, the course will explore biomedical waste management and ethics in healthcare administration.